

POW Exchange About April 21

"BETTER HOMES SHOW" spectators walked in an atmosphere of wonderment at the Dixon Armory Thursday night with a "could I use that" look in their eyes. Hundreds of Dixon and Lee county people turned out to view the opening of what was considered by many to be an outstanding home furnishing and appliance show.

What went on behind the eyes of the countless wistful looks of visitors brought a Telegraph reporter to the scene with probably the most difficult question many people were ever asked to answer.

"If you had a choice of one item in this big display of merchandise presented here by Dixon's merchants, which would you select?"

Answers ranged from "the whole works" to "just an ordinary radio."

The spot check of some housewives, with a few husbands thrown in for good measure, showed that the most-wanted item was a television set.

Three out of eight persons interviewed indicated that TV caught their eye. And, in the majority of instances, the items dealing with entertainment dominated the choices of those questioned.

Everyone asked, paused for a long moment before choosing from the display that featured almost everything from perpetual motion clocks to heating and ventilating units.

Mrs. Mary Freres, 103 E. Everett st., wanted a TV set as did Mrs. Florence Spierling, Dixon State hospital, and Charles Kested, 121 Everett st.

Mrs. Kested topped her husband's bid on the TV set. She thought that a new home would do the trick.

But, in the TV category, the interviewees weren't particular as to the model. Mrs. Freres preferred a 27-inch screen while Mrs. Spierling said she'd settle for 17. Surprisingly enough, of all the ultra modern appliances available, there was still a warm place in the heart of one spectator for a radio.

Mattie Stacey, 337 W. Chamberlin st., ignored TV for its predecessor. She wasn't concerned with the modern consoles either, just a new radio . . . table model.

The display of baby-grand pianos at the show caught the eye of Mrs. Frank Loeschner, Rt. 4, Dixon. She considered the piano as of great importance to children . . . especially her grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Jones, 511 W. Sixth st., had preference for the extremes in hot and cold. Mrs. Jones looked to the modern electric ranges on display as the item most wanted in her home. Her husband leaned to the other end of the thermometer in his desire for a new refrigerator.

Checking the preference of the public for modern merchandise by the Telegraph reporter was a matter which had to be handled delicately.

One person interviewed asked when her choice at the armory would be delivered to her home. The reporter made a hasty retreat, not wanting to be confused as sponsoring a give-away show.

It was all part of the gala opening in the three day Better Home show sponsored by the Dixon merchants and the Dixon Evening Telegraph.

Highlighting the show are the exhibits of 23 local merchants. But, to keep the armory "jumping" a t-pitch card of musicians, vocalists and comedians is on hand with music and merriment.

Ogle Sheriff Seeking Bride Of 16 and Her Husband, 69

Couple 'Honeymooning' in Northern Illinois; Girl Wanted for Checkup

OREGON—(Special)—Attempts to locate a honeymooning Ogle county bride of 16 and her 69-year-old husband were continued today as Sheriff James White sought to serve a summons on the bride for a mental competency examination.

White said this afternoon that Harvey Baker, 69, Forrester farm laborer, and Margaret Marie Genandt, 16, Adeline, his bride of four days, were believed to be honeymooning in northern Illinois, but that his office had been unable to locate them.

They had left Ogle county shortly after being married Monday by Justice Chester Landers in Oregon, White said.

State's Atty. Wayne Bettner issued a summons Tuesday for the girl's appearance in Ogle county court for a mental check by a commission of five doctors.

Baker was arrested last summer on a complaint charging him with contributing to the delinquency of a minor after the girl was discovered living with him as his housekeeper.

The complaint was dismissed after he promised to stay away from the girl.

The marriage Monday was attended by the bride's mother, Mrs. Alice Meyer, who reportedly favored a marriage between the two last summer, and Baker's son, Otto.

Accused Red Testifies He Held Key Government Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP)—A witness who refused to say whether he had belonged to a Communist cell here in the 1930's told senate investigators today he had worked for a number of congressional committees as well as various government departments.

The witness, Henry H. Collins jr., of Bronxville, N. Y., also testified that when he applied for an army commission in World War II he had been a member of the Communist party.

Subcommittee Counsel Robert Morris said the senate group has received testimony that Collins "was in the past a member of the Communist party."

Was Treasurer Morris said Whitaker Chambers, a self-avowed former Communist courier, had told the house un-American activities committee that Collins was treasurer of an underground Communist cell here in the 1930's.

Collins refused to answer when asked whether he had known Chambers or whether he had ever recruited anyone for a Soviet apparatus.

Collins also declined to say whether he had been a Communist while employed in the agriculture department or whether he knew Alger Hiss, a former state department official now in prison.

Hiss was convicted of lying in denying that he had furnished state department documents to a pre-war Soviet spy ring.

Sewer Assessments Faulty, Jury Rules in County Court

Favor Cases Of Plaintiffs Against City

Dairy Assessments Cut; Countryman Verdict Directed

A jury of nine men and two women in Lee county court today upheld the objections of two Dixon property owners against a special assessment levied by the city of Dixon.

Judge Grover Gehant this morning also sustained a motion of Atty. Henry C. Warner, on behalf of Emery Countryman, 604 First st., plaintiff, ordering that the jury find in favor of the plaintiff.

The directed verdict in favor of Countryman and against the city found that Countryman's property on Ottawa avenue near Division street would not benefit to the extent of a special city assessment for the proposed sewer installation.

Sustains Motion Judge Gehant in sustaining the motion found that the city's case was not enough to warrant jury deliberation.

The jury also returned a verdict in favor of Laverne J. Johnson, owner of the Standard Dairy property at Ottawa and Division street. The assessment exceeded the sewer's benefit to the dairy property, the jury decided. The assessment should be $406.65 instead of the original special assessment of $813.30, they determined.

They reached a verdict after deliberating approximately 90 minutes, following closing arguments of City Atty. Jones, and William Gunner, attorney for the Standard dairy.

Jones attempted to prove that the properties of both plaintiffs on Ottawa avenue, near Division, would benefit, to the extent of a special city assessment, by the proposed installation of a sewer. Countryman claimed that he had already spent money on a private sewer and didn't need two.

Jones tried to show that Countryman was not connected to the private sewer until after he objected to the city assessment.

It was brought out that Countryman extended the private sewer across the corner of an adjacent lot to connect to a sewer north of the lot in question.

In the case of the Standard Dairy, Jones tried to show that vacant lots on Ottawa avenue would benefit to the extent of two sewer laterals, and assessment value of $813.30.

Had Sewers Attorney Gunner told the jury that the property already had sewer connections on Galena avenue and didn't need the Ottawa installation.

He added that since the lots in question were zoned for commercial purposes and that Johnson had no intention of using them for anything else, the sewer would prove of no value to the lots.

Albert Kennedy, who spread the assessment, Charles Clemans, 921 Sixth st., and William Curran, 1212 S. Ottawa, testified in behalf of the city.

Mrs. Julius Wiser, 1209 Ottawa av., Frank Elmer, 408 Peoria av., Frank Hughes, 1221 Chestnut av., John Roe, Grand Detour, were witnesses on behalf of the plaintiffs.

Prison officials said convicts working in the two-story building got out safely. There was no disorder.

The furniture factory is situated in the extreme northwest corner of the prison, inside the wall but well away from cell blocks.

An adjoining building, the soap factory was threatened by the flames.

State's Attorney Sets New Family Desertion Policy

Extradites Dixon Father Who Fleed To Nebraska; Must Assume Support

A former Dixon man was returned to Lee county Thursday by Sheriff Charles Redebaugh to face charges of failing to support his wife and children residing in Dixon.

Kenneth James Royster, living for more than two years in Lincoln, Neb., waived extradition this week and was returned to Dixon to stand trial on an information prepared by State's Attorney James Bales.

According to Bales, Royster abandoned his wife and four children on Jan. 18, 1951, and has not returned to them nor provided for their support.

Bales said that the family of the defendant, currently residing on East Graham street, is destitute and needs the assistance of the defendant.

The state's attorney said that he did not intend to bring Royster into court on a felony count in that it would not help the situation of his wife and children.

However, Royster was arrested by Lincoln, Neb., authorities on a felony charge of wife and child abandonment, a criminal offense punishable by imprisonment from one to 13 years, a fine, or both.

Not Taxpayers Bales said that it was time persons in responsibility learn that it's not the job of taxpayers to maintain abandoned persons.

The responsibility is that of the breadwinner, in this case, the husband. And that responsibility can not be shirked, Bales claimed.

Bales contended that the problem involves the expense to the taxpayers of spending money to have such offenders arrested and returned to face charges, or of levying the long-range tax to provide for the abandoned family.

Sheriff Redebaugh journeyed a total of 1,000 miles to apprehend and return Royster to Dixon.

The cost is far less than that which taxpayers would have to pay if the defendant is allowed to continue to default in support of his family, Bales said.

Royster's children range in age from 4 to 10 years old with two youngsters being 8 and 6.

Hearing Tuesday The defendant is expected to be brought into county court Tuesday before Judge Grover Gehant who, according to Illinois statutes, can fine Royster and order him to support his family.

Action by the state's attorney is in line with the current Illinois policy of seeking the extradition of persons who abandon a family for which they are responsible.

Sheriff Redebaugh said that until a few years ago, the state would not extradite fathers who took refuge in another state.

New Drug Offers Hope to Victims of Black Cancer

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE AP Science Reporter

CHICAGO (AP)—Discovery of the first drug stopping the speedy and almost-always fatal black cancer, melanoma, was announced today.

It works only for a time. But it has banished this dread cancer in one human for at least a year, and has helped a few others.

Until now there has not been any drug or treatment, except surgery at the very earliest signs, which has had the slightest effect upon melanoma. This dark cancerous growth always starts somewhere on the skin, then spreads rapidly inside the body.

The drug is nicknamed TEPA, an abbreviation for triethylenephosphoramide.

This heartening step in chemical warfare upon cancer was reported to the American Association for Cancer Research by Doctors Farber, Virginia Downing, and Majib Abu-Haydar of the Children's Cancer Research Foundation and Department of Pathology, Harvard Medical School, Boston.

TEPA has been used so far upon 17 humans with melanomas. Dr. Farber said, it temporarily knocked out the cancers in five.

Work on mice indicates that TEPA might entirely abolish human melanomas if they were caught very early, said Dr. Farber. Melanomas account for about three per cent of all cancer deaths.

Agreement Reached on All Points

Communists Ask Resumption of Armistice Terms

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The Communists agreed Friday to trade sick and wounded prisoners beginning about April 21, then proposed resumption of the long-stalled armistice negotiations.

Both sides were expected to sign today the agreement calling for the exchange of 5,800 ailing reds for 600 allied prisoners, of which 120 are Americans.

No Yielding But in calling for a return to the armistice table, the Communist officers gave no sign of yielding on the principle of forced repatriation of some 50,000 prisoners who balk at returning to Red rule. It was Allied refusal to return such prisoners that ruptured the negotiations last October 8.

Communist liaison officers at Panmunjom, in proposing the resumption, declared "the principle of repatriation of all prisoners of war" after an armistice "is unshakable."

And the Communists reiterated that "the Korean-Chinese side does not acknowledge that there are prisoners of war who are allegedly unwilling to be repatriated."

The Communists' proposal, which they called "very important," was in reply to a letter April 5 from Gen. Mark Clark, the United Nations Far East Commander.

Asks More Details Clark had asked for more details of the compromise plan for an armistice which was proposed March 30 by Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China.

Actually, the Communist reply was mainly a restatement of Chou's proposal except to make even clearer that the Reds by persuasion, or other means, expect to bring back all balky Chinese and North Koreans.

The letter to Clark, from Gen. Nam Il, Senior Communist negotiator, restated Chou's three main points:

1. Let all prisoners go home who choose to return.
2. Turn over to a neutral country — yet unnamed — all prisoners who are listed as not wanting to return to their homelands.
3. Let the Communists give "explanations" to prisoners "afraid" to return home.

Explains Point The Communists went into a little more explanation of Chou's third point this way:

"Our side maintains that these captured personnel of our side who are filled with apprehension and are afraid to return home as a result of having been subjected to intimidation and oppression should be handed over to a neutral state, and through explanations given by our side gradually freed from apprehension, thereby attaining just solution to the question of repatriation."

Iowa Oleo Bill Awaits Final Okay

DES MOINES (AP)—A bill to legalize the sale of yellow oleomargarine in Iowa awaited the signature of Gov. William S. Beardsley today.

Passage of the measure by the Legislature Thursday ended a two-month controversy. The House and Senate had wrangled chiefly over a Senate provision which would have permitted oleomargarine to be sold at retail only if packaged in triangular quarter.

Iowa is the 46th state to legalize sale of colored oleomargarine. Minnesota and Wisconsin still ban it.

Attend the Church of Your Faith Regularly

How does LIFE get so TANGLED?

Interesting thing about a rope—it rarely becomes tangled when it's serving some useful purpose. It stretches firm and taut... reaching... holding.

But lay the rope aside... waiting without a purpose... and it becomes so tangled you can't even find the ends.

Life is like that! For some folks it seems an impossible tangle of conflicts, worries and disappointments. They haven't discovered how to devote their strand of years to a vital, constant purpose.

But for others life stretches firm and taut from birth to Eternity. The tangles disappear as men reach across time to hold certain the truths by which God would have us live.

Life without tangles... life with purpose... discover it in Church next Sunday!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Drake Choir to Sing Here April 16

THE 60-VOICE DRAKE UNIVERSITY CHOIR from Des Moines, Iowa, will appear in a concert here Thursday, April 16, at 8 p. m. in the First Christian church sanctuary, under the sponsorship of the Home Builders' class, it was announced today. This is the 13th season that the Drake choir has gone on tour. The tradition started in 1938 and has continued except for two war years. The 1933 tour includes 17 appearances in Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin plus several TV appearances. The repertoire of the Drake choir includes sacred, modern and folk compositions. Many are the off-beat favorites of audiences the world over. Others are relatively undiscovered works which add fresh beauty to the concert. The performances of the Drake choir are directed by Ralph Woodward, Genevieve Wheat Baal and Andrew White, all of the fine arts college faculty. Woodward has directed the annual 500-voice performance of "The Messiah," a Christmas-tune tradition in Des Moines, which is heard by thousands of persons each year. There will be no admission charge, but a free-will offering will be taken.

Adenauer's Plea to America Deserves Careful Attention

West German Chancellor Adenauer, the newest of our European visitors, comes to America as one of the staunchest advocates of unity for Europe.

His concern for this goal is not wholly unselfish, though Adenauer is widely regarded as one of the most "European-minded" of all statesmen of his country if it should somehow be allowed to slide back into isolation from the West.

Though Adenauer's trip here has been long planned, it takes on added meaning for Germany in the light of the fast-developing Soviet peace offensive. For he is alarmed at the prospect West Germany might suffer from a possible new agreement between Russia and the western powers.

A hard-headed statesman, Adenauer believes that Germany's only road back to strength and dignity on the continent lies in its close linking with France, Britain and the United States.

He knows a restored German unity on Russian terms would mean not fruitful partnership with Moscow but domination by the Kremlin.

He is distrustful as well of more disarming Soviet proposals for Germany unity which would seemingly preserve his country's independence. For he sees as the inevitable effect an end to the European army pact (already approved by the lower house of the Bonn parliament), and the withdrawal of Allied forces from German soil.

It would be no comfort that Russian troops also would be taken out, since they would be stationed on the Polish-German and Czech-German borders. On the other hand, the urge would be strong to pull American forces back across the Atlantic and British armies across the channel.

The net result, as Adenauer sees it, would be a perilous kind of solitary independence that would be no spur to the needed growth of freedom-loving elements in Germany.

Fundamentally, Adenauer is here to gain reassurance from American authorities that the West will make no agreements with Russia which will put Germany under Moscow's long shadow.

He is entitled to, and surely is getting, careful attention from the Eisenhower administration. For this stern old German has done more single-handedly to restore vanquished Germany to a role of international respectability than ever the most optimistic statesmen in 1945 could have imagined possible.

We Ought to Play It Cool

Soviet-American social relations have been in the deep freeze in Moscow ever since the cold war began. But lately a terrific thaw has set in and genial conversation is flowing all over the place.

Even Molotov, who is affable only upon signal, has been prodded into turning on his smile.

Perhaps the high point in this new tide of Russian warmth was reached when, in answer to an American reporter's joke, a Soviet official replied:

"Brother, you ain't seen nothing yet!"

Apparently not. But we're not sure we'll be able to stand it if the Russians now start to argue the merits of Mickey Mantle vs. Joe DiMaggio, to hum "Ohio" from Rosalind Russell's Broadway musical, or bemoan traffic fatalities on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The cold war would be a nice thing to be rid of, granted. But as a replacement, a sort of cool peace might be easier to take than the warm, gushy affair the Russians are currently promoting in Moscow's drawing rooms.

PETER EDSON'S WASHINGTON NEWS NOTEBOOK

Congress Handles 6,000 Bills, Enacts 12 in Three Months

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The first three months of the 83rd Congress have seen only 12 measures enacted into law. Only one of these was included in the President's list of 11 measures he announced on Feb. 9 as necessary legislation for this first session of Congress. This was the bill continuing the President's power to reorganize the executive branch of the government, subject to congressional veto.

Two other measures on the President's "must" list are near passage, however. These are statehood for Hawaii and the "tidelands" oil bill.

Other action completed by the Congress up to the time the Easter recess began included: Making Inauguration Day a holiday, creating a second undersecretary of State, continuing suspension of import taxes on copper, increase of government mortgage insurance authorization by half a billion dollars, removal of limitation on phone calls and telegrams by members of Congress, limiting the number of officers in the armed services, continuation of free postage and dependents' allotments for members of the armed forces, a three months' extension of the emergency war powers act, authorization for use of electric office machines by members of Congress, and passage of a billion-dollar deficiency appropriation bill to run the government till June 30. This last bill, however, was a cut of over $1.2 billion from the amount asked by President Truman.

INVESTIGATIONS TAKE UP MUCH TIME

The 12 bills passed by the Congress and signed by the President represent only a minor fraction of the 6,000 bills introduced by senators and representatives. Most of the congressional time in these first three months has been taken up with getting organized and conducting investigations. In the three months, the House has been in session only 40 days, the Senate 39.

The eight items on the Eisenhower "must" agenda still to be completed by Congress before it adjourns in July include:

Amending Taft-Hartley law, limited extensions of controls over defense materials, extension of reciprocal trade act, simplification of customs procedures, Social Security expansion, extension of temporary school aid, change in District of Columbia government from three to five commissioners and the passage of all appropriation measures by May 15.

Proposed cuts made in the Truman-Prepared budget for the next fiscal year aren't big enough to satisfy congressional economists. Six Eisenhower cabinet officers have now submitted estimates on how much they would be able to save.

For these six departments the Truman budget had asked over $1 billion. The revised estimates cut this by $23 million—which is a lot of money—but only a little over 10 per cent of the total. A similar cut all across the board on the $79 billion Truman budget would mean savings of around $8 billion.

MAY FORCE BIGGER CUTS ON MILITARY

Rep. John Taber, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, is now talking about a cut of $12.5 billion—or 50 per cent more than the department heads are recommending. If the civilian departments aren't able to cut more, it will mean that the military will have to take a big cut. These are the indicated cuts to date:

Agriculture—Truman budget: $1,114 million, proposed cut: $130 million; Commerce—Truman budget: $1,127 million, proposed cut: $170 million; Interior—Truman budget: $807 million, proposed cut: $54 million; Justice—Truman budget: $191 million, proposed cut: $8 million; Labor—Truman budget, $332 million, proposed cut: $11 million; Treasury—Truman budget: $665 million, proposed cut: $50 million.

Though the Republicans are anxious to place many more members of their party in government jobs, President Eisenhower's batting average on nominations sent to the Senate for confirmation hasn't been too good in the first three months. Over 9,000 promotions for officers of the armed services have sailed through, with only 30—including Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughn's—unconfirmed.

For the 993 civilian nominations made by President Eisenhower, only 393 had been confirmed as of April 1. Eighteen of President Truman's nominations were withdrawn by President Eisenhower. But not one Republican postmaster has been nominated.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Exclusively Yours: Percy Kilbride and Marjorie Main agreed to do "Ma and Pa Kettle Hit the Road" at U-I only after big salary boosts.

The pair are the most coddled stars in Hollywood, with rights to choose their own days off, an early daily quitting schedule and a say-so on story points.

Kilbride's even transported to and from the studio each day in a limousine—a courtesy even stars like Lana Turner, Loretta Young and Jimmy Stewart don't rate.

No. 1 adorer in Margaret Whiting's life—and the reason why intimates are saying that her separation from Lou Busch is permanent—is her young agent, Phil Loeb.

Jerry Devine of "This Is Your FBI" fame will produce a movie, "Babes in the Woods," in Ireland this summer. Few people remember, but Jerry played Mary Carr's son in the famous 1920 movie classic, "Over the Hill."

Deanna Durbin, hubby Charles David and her two children are London-bound to see Elizabeth crowned. They'll return to Hollywood in late summer but not for Deanna to make her TV debut, as has been rumored.

"I've officially retired and movies and TV are out," slim and beautiful Deanna told me when I quizzed her about the video talk. "I'm one of those lucky people—I've found happiness with a wonderful guy and a family."

PINIS—THE END

Eye-popping note: Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis will get $50,000 a week plus a 70-30 split of the gate when they play the New York Paramount theater in August. Dean, an expectant papa for the sixth time, is quipping to pals that the baby will be named Terminate—Italian for "absolutely the end."

Will Rogers jr., has the plot of his next movie all picked out—the life story of famous western painter Charles Russell. Now it's up to Warner Bros.

Jean Simmons is still gasping about Teresa Wright playing the role of her mother in MGM's "Fame and Fortune."

"I thought she looked younger than I did," Jean said. "But when the cameras turned, she suddenly became very mature and gave a brilliant performance. A lot of actresses use tricks when they play an older woman, but Teresa, without seeming to try too much, somehow aged herself from within. It was amazing."

Nearly 300 Are Guests at Local 'Hollywood Breakfast'

Hats were the topic of conversation when nearly 300 Dixonites and out-of-towners attended the Hollywood Breakfast Thursday morning in Loveland Community house, Dixon. The popular event was sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary, with Mrs. Charles Edous as chairman and Mrs. Don Rosecrans, co-chairman.

Always a challenge to hat lovers and amateur designers the spring event brought forth many large and small, novel and beautiful creations. Judges for the hats and also the good neighbor letters were Good Neighbor." A gift of red roses was presented to the winner and Mrs. Salzman was also presented with a remembrance.

Always a high point on the program is selection of prize winning hats. Mrs. Bill Brenner was announced as the guest with the largest hat. This being a huge style from Panama.

Minute, best describes entries in the smallest hat event. A creation of an heirloom glass toothpick holder graced with a pink plume and held in place with wide pink satin ribbons elected Mrs. Roy Clingman the winner.

Laughs were plentiful as the judges modeled hats designed to enter the "funniest" classification. Congo Jungle was the title of the winner belonging to Mrs. Roy Nelson, 419 East Fourth st.

Baby chicks Not only the most original but also the most alive hat was that worn by Mrs. Clarence Paulsen. Two live chickens were sitting in a square shaped box that, trimmed with red crepe paper and tied under the chin with red and white ribbons.

Hats named as the oldest were those entered by Mrs. Walter Hoyle, Dixon, and Mrs. William Armstrong, Geneseo. Both hats were over 100 years old.

Being judged as the hat taking the most work was that by Mrs. Martha Metzger, a large white hand crocheted creation.

Winning honors for wearing the prettiest hat was Mrs. Janna Ware. Atop her head was a bright red flower designed chapeau. A veil, red velvet ribbons and tiny rhinestones added to the glamour of the head hugging hat.

Nearly 150 gifts, donations of Dixon merchants, were a feature of the nice event for which congratulations are due the chairman, co-chairman, committees and the entire American Legion auxiliary.

Accessories Can Make or Break Costume

Accessories can enhance or ruin a smart appearance, says Myra Baker, clothing specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. These important appurtenances to your costumes should be selected with as much care and with as careful attention to detail as a suit or coat, Miss Baker adds.

There are two ways of assembling your wardrobe. The one you choose depends on your own taste and personality. You can put the major portion of your clothes budget into good basic clothes and add variety with inexpensive accessories; or you can buy moderately priced clothes and enhance them with good accessories that can be worn with several costumes.

The first plan is a good one if you like costume jewelry, bright scarves and gloves, gay shoes and similar high-style accessories. If you are on a limited clothes budget it is not wise to put a lot of money into fashions of the moment that may be outmoded in a short time.

Top Quality

If you are conservative in your tastes, you will be smart to shop for top quality accessories. A good leather bag and well-made good-fitting shoes are a good investment, for they will outlast many cheaper ones and will look well while they are lasting. If you are willing to wear the same accessories for several seasons, it is economical to buy top quality.

In this case select bag, shoes and gloves of a basic color that will harmonize with several outfits. Let the design be functional, the decoration restrained, and the style suited to you and to the occasion. Sometimes no accessories at all are the right accessories. For example, with a jewel trimmed party dress it is a good idea to underplay the extras and focus attention on the dress itself. A necklace or other jewelry will frequently detract from the beauty of a dress that has trimming emphasis at the neckline.

"When in doubt," Miss Baker

Think of Your Beauty Future

By ALICIA HART

Career girls, if you'd like to have clear eyes and firm facial contours in future years, you'll be wise to start thinking about cultivating good beauty habits while you're young.

It's possible to have fresh, youthful-looking beauty in your 70's. Many women have done it. But the career girl who snatches her lunch on the run, takes her private worries to the office, overdoes her evening activities and neglects her skin treatment routines won't be among their happy number.

You can find out from an expert how many calories a day are required for your personal needs. Then estimate whether, in a rush-eat breakfast and lunch, you are getting enough. You can't expect dinner to make up, for healthwise, for insufficient calories at your other meals.

Nutrition, something else again from calories, likewise can't be gained from dinner alone. Nutrition depends on balanced meals. Specifically, don't overdo pastries and other starches or go to other extreme of trying to subsist on salads.

Plan to have enough diversion in your life, as this rests your mind after a day's work. But never accept so many invitations that you become exhausted. It isn't worth it if you'd like to be lovely at 70.

Faithful, daily use of the skin creams suitable to you, as well as good head and neck posture, will also help you to be lovely in the distant future. Remember that you, at any age, are the sum of your thoughts and activities, including those for beauty, in all the years before.

Wilson Wants Stock Rule Waived; Senators Oppose

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson has asked members of the Senate Armed Services Committee to waive their stock disposal rule so he can hire two more big businessmen as top assistants.

Wilson was said to have told committee members he is having extreme difficulty in enlisting the men he wants because the prospective appointees are reluctant to dispose of their stocks.

The battle over Wilson's own nomination ended in a decision that he had to promise to dispose of his General Motors stock before being confirmed.

Will Not Relent

Senators willing to discuss the matter predicted the committee will not relent in its requirements that defense officials dispose of their industrial holdings.

The law says that no federal official shall do business with any firm in which he has even an indirect financial interest.

Wilson was reported to have suggested the unification act be amended to give him two additional assistant secretaries. He now has three stock aides, paid $15,000 yearly.

When he took office, Wilson issued a directive disqualifying any defense official from passing on any matter where he held any financial interest in the result.

Wilson told senators he believes this directive should meet any objection that future appointees might have financial interests in matters which go over their desks.

Refused Substitute

However, the committee once refused to accept this same substitute for its stock sale ruling.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), who first raised the stock issue, was reported to have told Wilson he sees no reason for changing the rule in the case of the proposed two new assistant secretaries.

Sen. Duff (R-Pa.) said he thinks the committee would be unanimously opposed to changing its rule.

Krebiozen Drug Doc Feared Kidnaping, Priest Testifies

CHICAGO (AP)—A Catholic priest testified today that Dr. Steven Durovic, discoverer of the controversial cancer drug Krebiozen, told him in 1949 that he feared his 3-year-old nephew would be kidnaped.

The Rev. Reginald Rabadan, who visited the Durovics several times in 1949, told a special legislative committee that Durovic quoted Industrialist Kenneth Brainerd as telling Durovic that:

"You must know I'm a good friend of yours, but I can be a dangerous enemy."

Shows Clippings

Father Rabadan said Durovic told him Brainerd exhibited newspaper clippings about a kidnaping.

Thursday a witness testified that efforts were being made to get the Durovics to give distribution rights to the drug to two Chicago industrialists, one of whom was Brainerd.

Father Rabadan said that every time he visited the Durovic home in 1949, Brainerd was present. He quoted Dr. Durovic and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Marko Durovic, as saying they were worried that Mrs. Marko Durovic's son, Stephen, 3, would be kidnaped.

Father Rabadan said the Durovics were so fearful of a kidnaping that they refused to let the boy answer the door or go out of the house.

Hears No Threats

On cross-examination, Father Rabadan said no threats were made in his presence, and that no attempt was made to kidnap the boy.

An American Medical Association official awaited a call before the special state legislative committee to answer charges that he conspired to seize control of the drug.

Commodore Alberto Carlos Barreira, former Argentine undersecretary of aviation, testified Thursday that the AMA's treasurer, Dr. J. J. Moore, planned to bankrupt the inventors of Krebiozen, forcing them to sell their rights to commercial interests.

A Chicago physician and surgeon, Dr. Peter S. Y. Neskov, testified that Moore had urged Dr. Durovic to give distribution rights to the two Chicago industrialists.

The committee, named by the Illinois legislature last November to investigate the controversy into Krebiozen, heard two other witnesses at the opening session. The committee is seeking to determine whether a commercial conspiracy has blocked research with the drug or whether the University of Illinois was justified last year in banning further research.

Barreira, in testimony and in an affidavit to the committee, charged Dr. Moore had threatened to destroy Dr. Durovic, former Yugoslav physician, and his brother, Marco, an attorney.

He said he uncovered a conspiracy against the inventors by acting as an undercover agent. He quoted Dr. Moore as saying at one conference in his Chicago office that "We are all interested just in the money and we have to meet together in order to find the way to obtain it, lots of it, soon."

Dr. Moore, AMA treasurer for the last 10 years, told reporters he will give his whole story as soon as he appears before the committee.

Commenting on the testimony before the committee Thursday, he told newsmen:

All 'Lies'

"Most of the things they talked about in relation to financial arrangements are lies. I had no confidence in Krebiozen. I think it is one of the greatest hoaxes of the last decade, and I still feel that way."

Barreira testified he maintained the expenses of the Durovics' laboratory in Argentina when they came to the United States in 1950. He followed them to North America, he said, when he learned they were having "difficulties." The AMA had announced tests on cancer patients showed the drug to be without benefit.

Barreira said he heard there was an alliance between Dr. Moore, two Chicago industrialists, Ed Moore and Kenneth Brainerd and Huberto Loretti, former secretary of the Durovics' laboratory in Buenos Aires. The Moores are not related.

He quoted Dr. Moore as telling him in 1952 that "the Durovics will be forced to live up to their obligations to Moore and Brainerd and to everyone else, otherwise they will be destroyed."

Tells of Demands

Dr. Neskov testified Dr. Moore in May, 1951, told Dr. Durovic that manufacturing and distributing rights to the drug should be given to Ed Moore and Brainerd. He said he believed Dr. Moore told Durovic he "must" give the rights to Ed Moore and Brainerd, but added that Dr. Moore might have said the two industrialists "should be given the rights." Dr. Neskov said he acted as interpreter of the meeting.

Another witness, Ana Dorotea

Schmidt, Barreira's secretary testified that Dr. Moore contended he could force the suspension from the University of Illinois of Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, vice president of the institution and internationally known physiologist.

Dr. George D. Stoddard, president of the university, ordered Ivy to discontinue his Krebiozen research after several medical committees, including one sponsored by the AMA, reported the drug was greatly overrated as a cancer treatment.

Ivy, who is on a leave of absence to continue his studies, maintains the drug has not been given a fair hearing.

Stoddard told the committee at earlier hearings he believed "Dr. Ivy has been deceived and made use of." In halting the university research, Stoddard contended that "except as a common, harmless, inexpensive ingredient, Krebiozen does not exist."

What legislative action, if any, is necessary or desirable, will be considered by the 14-member committee after its investigation.

Keep Strong, U. S. Warns Free World

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—The U. S. warned the free world today against abandoning its policy of strength and unity because of conciliatory gestures from the Kremlin.

U. S. Delegates Ernest A. Gross told the U. N.'s 60-nation political committee that it was the West's very policy of strength and unity which had brought about such gestures and that eventually it would oblige the Soviet government to change its policies completely.

"Most of us feel the time will come when the Soviet government will find it necessary to modify its policy. If so it will be because of our policy of strength and unity. We must not abandon that strength," he declared.

Gross deplored reintroduction of an omnibus Polish peace package and said that the U. N. has rejected all major points in it. He specifically regretted the bringing up of the Korean problem here at this time.

"No resolution on Korea is necessary or desirable at this time," he declared. "We must avoid any action which might jeopardize the talks at Panmunjom."

Stock Market Drifts Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market drifted lower today, the second declining session after two days of advancing prices.

All areas of the market were covered by the fall, which went to around a point at the outside in key areas. Plus signs were small. Trading was at a rate not much higher than a million shares.

Thursday it came to a little better than a million and a half, lowest in nearly two months.

Definitely lower were railroads, steels, motors, aircrafts and oils. Utilities were unchanged to higher.

Lower were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Lockheed, Philco, Consolidated Edison, American Smelting, Union Carbide, Westinghouse Electric, Southern Railway, Cities Service and Johns-Manville.

U. S. government bonds in the over the counter market were quiet with some prices marked down.

Not Depressed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has removed Danville, Ill., from the list of "depressed areas," entitled to preference in the placement of defense contracts. The office of defense mobilization announced Thursday that unemployment there had fallen below 6 percent of the working population.

Former Steward Merchant Sued For Sales Tax

The Illinois department of revenue today filed a complaint in the office of John Shaulis, circuit court clerk, charging a former Lee county merchant with failing to pay his retailer's occupation tax.

The action was brought today by Attorney General Latham Castle charging James K. Conour, former owner of Conour's grocery store, Steward.

In the complaint against Conour, who no longer operates the store, the defendant failed to pay the balance of his retailer's occupation tax, incurred since 1951.

Castle charged that Conour owed the state a total of $75.

He said that it was the duty of the defendant to file a return with the revenue department showing the total gross sales and to pay the tax on those sales.

According to the retailer's occupation tax law, passed in 1933, retailers are obliged to pay two percent tax on 88 percent of gross receipts for retail sales.

Latham charged that the defendant was notified of his delinquent tax of $61.44 and penalties of $13.56, but has failed to make payment.

The plaintiff asked the court to render a judgment against the defendant of $75 payable to the state.

Rural Firemen Fight Blazes Fanned by Wind

Rural and city firemen fought strong winds and flames Thursday night and today in efforts to extinguish two rubbish fires.

Firemen reached the scene in time to prevent any damage, Rural Fire Commission John Quest reported.

Another fire at 5:45 a. m. today was extinguished by city firemen who were called to the Freeman Shoe company plant on West First street.

According to City Fire Chief Gail Keyser, a bale of scrap leather caught fire as the result of sparks from a nearby bonfire. There was no damage, but it took firemen an hour to subdue a blaze whipped by a strong wind.

Psychology Plays Big Part in Stock Market

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (U-P)—Talk of peace topples the stock market. Many businessmen take a second look at earnings prospects for 1953. Merchants remember that a sharp downturn in stocks often keeps customers away. That's because a tumble in stock prices always impresses the public. It looks upon any sharp shift in direction of stock prices as a preview of what those in the know think is coming to business in general, and thus to prices of goods, to jobs and to incomes.

Some Jitters

The peace talk comes when businessmen are already a little jittery about the chances of approaching deflation, hard selling competition, and a possible slump. A spreading of the war, however, doubtless would have upset the stock market much more than the Kremlin peace hints did. And the stock market doesn't always forecast accurately. Often, as The Associated Press' index of stock prices shows, the market pays attention to other things than to profit outlook, or even dividend prospects, as it is generally supposed to.

The peace talks are potent in the market because psychology plays a larger part in changing stock prices than is generally realized. Confidence, or lack of it—that is, general public sentiment—often speaks louder than profit and loss statements in charting the course of the market.

How Good Is It?

Just how good a barometer is the stock market?

The AP price index of 60 key and typical stocks rose 17 per cent during 1952. But the combined earnings of the 60 companies dropped one per cent in 1952 below the profits of the same corporations in 1951.

And all through the year this earnings drop was generally expected. In fact, many thought the profit decline might be greater. Yet prices of the 60 stocks rose in spite of it, and in spite of considerable fear that the boom might have just about run its course.

The 60 companies were right in line with business in general. Combined earnings of 3,444 companies last year dropped two per cent below the year before, the National City Bank of New York reports.

Much of the stock rise at the end of the year may have forecast the expectation of better earnings this year. Chances are that company reports on the three months just ended will show profits of most firms higher than a year ago. And dividend payments have stayed around record highs, with prospects still good.

Psychology Important

But psychology played a large part. It was general confidence in the business future, rather than expectation of higher yields on stocks, that sent prices up after the election.

Price and earnings patterns are varied, moreover, among the market's divisions. Price averages of the 30 industrial in the AP index rose 10 per cent during 1952, while earnings of the 30 companies dropped 7 per cent. The 15 railroads in the AP index show stock price averages up 39 per cent and earnings up 28 per cent. But stock prices of 15 utilities in the AP index rose only 6 per cent, although earnings were up 11 per cent.

Business, in other words, doesn't always bear out the forecasts of stock traders. But the psychology of a market drop often frightens business and upsets consumer buying plans.

Jobs in industry were found for Indians from every western state and Alaska by the U. S. Bureau of Indian Affairs in 1952.

Italian Police Complicate a Wedding Night

FLORENCE, Italy—(U-P)—"Let me tell you what happened on my wedding night," said 21-year-old Alfonso Mazzarella of New York City.

"I was just going to bed when there came a rapping on the door. 'Who is it?' I asked. 'Friends,' someone answered. 'I'm not in for friends tonight,' I replied."

"Well, open up anyway," the voice ordered. "This is the police." So Anthony, who came to Italy from New York to get married, and has only 17 days to get back for induction into the U. S. Army, was taken into custody for the Italian Army, which also is breathing down his neck. He and his 22-year-old bride from his old home town in Italy had come to Florence for a honeymoon after being married in Rome Wednesday.

Alfonso said the police came in and kept an eye on him while he dressed, protesting vigorously. They took him to police headquarters and informed him he is charged with failure to report for compulsory military training under Italian law.

He told them he had not been in Italy for six years, and showed them his American passport—police confiscated. He is "mighty worried" that unless police let him leave the country soon, he'll be in trouble with the American Army, too.

He said his draft board in New York gave him only until April 27 to come here, marry, return and report for induction.

After the first night, police released Alfonso but warned him: "Don't try to leave town."

Paul Pienni, U. S. consul in Florence, talked the case over with the police, who said their investigation is not yet complete. Pienni said there should be no

Thorez was accompanied home by his wife, French Parliament Deputy Jeanette Veermeersch, a Russian woman doctor, a nurse and several interpreters.

BONN, Germany (U-P)—Vice Chancellor Franz Blumhagen announced today the smashing of a widespread Soviet spy ring in Western Germany. He said it was directed by Russian Army officers at Soviet headquarters in East Berlin and specialized in industrial espionage in the vital Ruhr valley.

Blumhagen said more than 35 persons—all Germans—had been arrested and more will be jailed. He termed the ring "the largest Soviet secret organization uncovered in Western Germany since the beginning of the occupation in 1945."

One Change Made In ABC Top Ten

CHICAGO—Only one change among the top ten took place Thursday in the American Bowling Congress meet, this in the booster class. Moose No. 731 team of Point Pleasant, W. Va., rolled into a tie for sixth place with 2781.

Joe Strblak 627 and John Palenik 620, Hammond, Ind., were high in doubles with 1247.

Pirates Humiliate Yanks, Raschi With 10-5 Victory

Braves Rained Out of Opener In Milwaukee

By The Associated Press
The Pittsburgh Pirates conquered and humiliated the vaunted New York Yankees Thursday.

The score at Forbes Field was 10-5 with eight fat Pittsburgh runs coming off the high priced slants of Vic Raschi.

Ralph Kliner, Cal Abrams and Danny O'Connell slashed home runs off Raschi before the fast balling right hander took cover after seven innings. In all, the Pirates got 13 hits off Raschi and two more off relief man Tom Gorman.

Mantle Homers
A tremendous home run over the roof of the double deck right field stands by Mickey Mantle was the only solace for the Yankees.

The Athletics pitted their best against their intercity rivals' best at Portsmouth, Va., and came out on the short end in Robert Roberts pitched a five-hit shutout for the Phillies and won, 4-0. Bobby Shantz gave up only two hits and one run and struck out seven in the five innings he worked for the Athletics.

Called Redlegs

The Milwaukee Braves got in only two innings against their former city rivals, the Boston Red Sox, and were trailing, 3-0, when a heavy drizzle put an end to the proceedings at Milwaukee.

Cincinnati, which announced that it intended to be called the Redlegs instead of the Reds this season, belted five home runs off Ned Garver and defeated Detroit, 13-3, at Columbus, Ohio.

Slug Feller
At Kingsport, Tenn., the New York Giants picked on the offerings of Bobby Feller for seven runs in the first six innings and outlasted the Cleveland Indians, 7-6.

Against Southern Association opposition the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Memphis Chicks, 12-5, and the Chicago White Sox blanked Atlanta, 7-0.

In a night game the Brooklyn Dodgers committed four errors as they lost their second straight to the Senators at Washington, 6-4.

The St. Louis Browns and Chicago Cubs called off their game in Kansas City because of wet grounds and cold weather.

Cubs, White Sox To Open Chicago City Series Today

CHICAGO—Lefty Mike Fo-nies, the White Sox' 21-year-old Cuban, faces veteran Bob Rush of the Chicago Cubs in the annual spring city series.

Today's game in Wrigley Field is the first of three in the series that ends Sunday. The Sox lead five games to three on the spring tour.

Fornieles' supporting lineup which beat the Crackers 7-0 in Atlanta Thursday includes three other new White Sox performers—first baseman Ferris Fain, rookie catcher Red Wilson and third baseman Vern Stephens.

The Cubs' overall record for the spring is 17-13 and the Sox is 23-15.

Browns Sell Sportsman's Park to St. Louis Cards

ST. LOUIS (U)—Sportsman's Park has a new owner and a new name today.

St. Louis' two ball clubs—the Cardinals and Browns—reversed their tenant-landlord role in an $800,000 deal. The North side park now is Budweiser Stadium.

Officials of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., owner of the Redbirds, and the Browns gave two reasons for the ownership change:

The Cardinals wanted to make expensive improvements, but not while someone else owned the park; and the Browns could use the money to help pay operating costs this year.

Rudie Schaffer, general manager of the Browns, speaking in the absence of President Bill Veeck Thursday night, said the sale had no connection with the club's attempt to move to Baltimore last month.

The Cardinals had been renting the park for $35,000 a year under a lease running through 1960. They also footed half the maintenance costs, which last year added an estimated $105,000 to their bill.

The Browns now will rent from the Redbirds at $175,000 annually, but will have no maintenance expenses under the arrangement.

They have taken a five-year lease which means they will return the sale price plus $75,000 in that time.

August A. Busch, president of the Cardinals and the brewery, said a $400,000 face-lifting program will be carried out during 1953.

Doctors Studying Malady That May End Babe Zaharias' Career

BEAUMONT, Tex. (U)—Babe Didrikson Zaharias kept the traditional "stiff upper lip" today as physicians continued tests to determine the malady that threatens to end her great athletic career.

The famed woman golfer quit the tour after examination by a physician at Fort Worth revealed a serious condition. She entered a hospital Thursday.

When she was asked what her malady is she referred to her husband, former wrestler George Zaharias. He said they wouldn't know until the X-rays and tests are completed. An announcement is expected by Saturday.

Dr. W. E. Tatum, who performed an operation for hernia on Mrs. Zaharias last spring, said Thursday that he didn't know if surgery would cure her but expressed the opinion that she never would play championship golf again.

Mrs. Zaharias, voted the outstanding woman athlete of the half-century in an Associated Press poll, had won a golf tournament here Sunday. She took first money in the Babe Zaharias open, a tournament named in her honor.

Ben Hogan needed only to par the last two holes to tie for Harbert for the lead, but the 1951 Masters champion missed short putts on both and had to settle for a 70. Hogan and Milton Marusic were tied for fourth.

Sam Snead shot a 70, too, but his playing partner, Byron Nelson, made a mistake in keeping score and gave him a par four on the 18th instead of the three he actually scored with a fine chip shot that hit the cup.

Snead signed the card without noticing the error. There was a lot of excited discussion when the mistake was caught, and the officials ruled Snead to take a 71 if he wanted to continue his pursuit of his second consecutive Masters' victory.

Tied with Snead for sixth were Ted Kroll, Bob Hamilton and Tommy Bolt.

Three Sports Set For Mt. Morris

Track, Tennis Squads Open Thursday; All Teams Short of Lettermen, Depth

MT. MORRIS—(Special)—Three spring sport schedules for Mt. Morris high school were released today by Athletic Director J. R. Worley.

Principal sport will be track where the Mounters have four major lettermen back and two minor letter winners. Worley reported that the squad's main strength would probably come from that group with most of the men doubling up on events to gain strength for the team.

Power is expected to lie in the track events where the Mounters have two dash men, Jim Watt and Ralph Kielsmeier; two hurdlers, Derril Corbett and Dan Noonkesser; one 440 runner, Roger Martin, and one distance man, Gary Miller.

No Threat

Worley reported that the squad will not have much depth and stated that he doesn't expect to be a big threat in the Blackhawk conference race.

The Mounter thinclads open their schedule with a dual meet at Forreton Thursday.

Golf Coach Dave Henry has two veterans back for his squad in Jim Watt and Dick Spink.

No Lettermen

The tennis squad is hurting most since Coach Lew Behrens is left without a single letterman back on the squad.

The golf season opens April 27 at Newman and the tennis squad swings into action Thursday at East Rockford.

Sandy, Beau Battle in Place Of Title Bout

NEW YORK (U)—Randy Sandy and Jimmy Beau pop up on your television screen tonight instead of Rocky Marciano and Jersey Joe Walcott.

Tonight was the original date for the heavyweight title bout, but an injury to Rocky's nose forced a postponement until May 15.

Sandy, a skinny, 22-year-old New York middleweight, meets Beau, of New Canaan, Conn., in the main ten rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Sandy is 9 to 5 choice. The bout will start at 9 p.m., CST, and will be telecast (NBC) and broadcast (ABC).

Ernie Lombardi Expected to Live After Throat Slit

LIVERMORE, Calif. (U)—Ernie Lombardi, former National League batting champ and most valuable player, now is expected to survive the ear-to-ear throat slashing he gave himself.

The big, good-natured "Schnoz," recently despondent, tried to take his life with a razor blade Wednesday night.

He was given two blood transfusions and doctors said he had been taken off the critical list.

Lee Center Nine Opens At Pawpaw

LEE CENTER—(Special)—Lee Center opens the 1953 spring sport schedule with baseball this year when they visit Pawpaw Tuesday.

The Bulldogs of Lee Center are short on experience since this will be the first season for them to play baseball.

Six games are on the Lee Center schedule which coach Dan Moore hopes to extend into the fall. Along with a second game with Pawpaw, the Bulldogs have scheduled home and home contests with St. Bede and Steward this spring.

Moore said he probably would enter a few boys in the Green River Valley conference track meet April 25, although there is some question about this, he added.

The Schedule

21—St. Bede, Peru.
28—At Steward.

Only Three Badgers Win NCAA Bouts

POCATELLO, Idaho (U)—A new national collegiate boxing team champion appeared almost a certainty today as the defending champion Wisconsin Badgers qualified but three men for the NCAA tournament second round.

Louisiana State, with six men in the semi-finals, moved into a commanding position for the team race after Thursday night's qualifying round.

Three Wisconsin battlers—Ray Zale, Bob Hines and Pat Sreenan—won their first round bouts to give the Badgers a lead of three points for the team title. But four others lost and it appeared the Badgers wouldn't have enough guns to carry through.

Morgan Loses

Zale beat Ronald Bruch, Minnesota, 178 pounds; Hines beat Paul Reuter, San Jose State, heavyweight, and Sreenan defeated Russ Lundgren, Idaho State.

Wisconsin's 1952 national champion at 147 pounds, Bob Morgan, who fought at 156 pounds this year, lost a split decision to Virginia's Robert Potter.

John Granger of Syracuse, 1953 eastern champion at 139 pounds, upset Wisconsin's Charles Magestro.

Vicious Battle
Darrell Dukes of San Jose State scored a first-round win when he floored Alex Tsakiris of Michigan State. They are 178 pounds.

The most vicious battle of the opening round was between Pete Lee of Minnesota and Bill Greenway of Michigan State at 156 pounds. Lee lost one point for a low blow in the second round, but cut loose with two-handed flurries and finally decked Greenway for a nine count to win.

RUSS AHEARN, coach of the 1951-52 state champion Hebron Green Giants, will be the guest speaker at the Ashton athletic banquet Monday evening, sponsored by the Ashton Civic Club.

Ahearn will speak on "Championship Basketball," a subject he should know. As most of you will remember, Hebron was only the second district team ever to win the big basketball prize in Illinois.

LETTERS WILL BE AWARDED to the members of the teams and the cheerleaders by Coach Paul Crafts.

COACH DON MOORE at Lee Center reported that the Bulldogs' basketball banquet will be held April 25.

Moore also stated that he is looking for one more basketball game for next season, to complete his schedule.

The LITTLE EIGHT TRACK TITLE will be settled by scoring 15 points for the winner of each of three triangular meets and one quadrangular meet. Eight points will be awarded second place, five points for third and two points for fourth. In addition, all points scored in the conference meet will be added to the regular season total to determine the title holder.

Ohio, Wyandot and Manlius now have one leg toward the title as all three won meets yesterday.

THE BROWNS, now only tenants in the St. Louis ball park, signed a five-year lease with the St. Louis Cardinals which may mean that Bill Veeck plans to remain in St. Louis at least that long. However, it is not outside the realm of possibility to believe that the Cardinals would allow the lease to be broken to become the only major league team in the city if the Browns desired to move.

Six teams will compete in the Sterling relays April 24. It was reported by the Sterling athletic department, Dixon, Sterling, Freeport, LaSalle-Peru, Moline and defending champion Rock Island are slated for the event.

IN 1951, LASALLE-PERU won the event and the year before it was Sterling. Dixon hasn't placed in the last three years.

Rochelle Track, Tennis Teams Open Tuesday

ROCHELLE—(Special)—The track and tennis teams at Rochelle open the spring sport calendar Tuesday with the cindermen joining Oregon in a triangular meet at Sterling and the tennis team moving over to Dixon.

A third sport, golf, will receive the accent this season as the Hub linkmen attempt to retain the North Central conference golf crown with three of its five man championship team back for another try.

Heading the golf list are Jim Slothower and George Schofield who will be back to defend their conference individual championships last year when they tied with 75s. Don Meanger, Dave Rieders and Dick Lockhart are other lettermen returning. Lost are Dick Carter and Pete Kiene, both four year veterans.

Last year, Carter tied Slothower and Schofield for conference honors and then defeated them in a three-way playoff for the first place medal.

The track squad has eight varsity letterwinners back along with six sophomores who lettered last season with the frosh-soph squad which should give the Hubs plenty of strength in that sport.

Varsity lettermen and their events are: Gene Carlson, 440; Jerry Lang, 880; Dale Vogeler, high jump; Delmar Starnes, discus and shot; Robert Smith, broad jump and hurdles; Al Muselman, mile and 880; Don Schuler, discus and shot and Art Haws, 220 and 440.

Sophomores: Bob Bjorneby, pole vault; Jim Bailey, 100 and 220; Robert Detig, 100, 220, high hurdles and broad jump; Ron Hill, shot and high jump and Lyle Smith, shot and discus.

Expect Russia to Spurn German Election Offers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top American officials today saw little chance Russia would accept an American-German challenge to permit genuinely free elections in Communist-ruled East Germany.

President Eisenhower and German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, in a move to test Russia's current peace offensive, urged Moscow to agree to this and, also free some 300,000 German war prisoners still in Soviet hands.

Formal Communiqué

The joint American-German appeal came in a formal communiqué announcing the results of three days of talks between Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dulles and a German delegation headed by Adenauer.

Adenauer arranged to fly today to San Francisco on a nine-day cross country tour before returning to Germany.

Adenauer could point to these chief achievements during his conferences:

1. A pledge the U. S. will supply guns, tanks, planes and other military equipment needed to arm 12 German divisions which will join the six-nation European army, once created.

Consider Money Aid

2. A promise the U. S. is sympathetically considering financial aid for beleaguered Western Berlin and thousands of refugees flocking into Western zones from Eastern Germany.

3. The return to West German ownership of about 350 small vessels taken by the U.S. as reparations after the war.

In return, Adenauer gave these pledges:

1. Controls aimed at choking off shipment of strategic materials to Communist nations will be tightened by "supplementary measures" aimed at barring transshipment through Germany.

2. An early agreement with France will be sought to settle the bitter dispute over the future of the industrial Saar border territory.

Lost Fire Truck Arrives at Last

MARYSVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Marysville's new gleaming red fire truck finally arrived Thursday — four days late. The $34,000 truck driven here from the Elmira, N. Y., factory, had been unreported after passing through Denver.

Fire Chief Robert Miller, who'd been worried, was as happy as a boy. Not bothering to ask questions, he sighed:

"I guess it was just delayed."

Broyles Says Illinois Has Share of Reds

CHICAGO (AP)—State Sen. Paul Broyles (R-Mt. Vernon) today told the Daughters of the American Revolution that Illinois has its share of "traitors and their sympathizers."

Broyles urged support of anti-subversive bills he has introduced in the General Assembly in an address before D.A.R. chapter regents, and Americanism and national defense chairmen.

The downstate lawmaker said present state laws are not sufficient to cope with subversives. "No effective action has ever been taken either by the federal or state officials," he said, because of "weaknesses in the laws and lack of emphasis in responsibility of enforcement."

In vetoing earlier Broyles legislation, former Gov. Adlai Stevenson contended existing state laws were adequate to meet any threat of subversion.

Broyles said "nothing in my proposed legislation can harm a loyal citizen. If a person is not guilty, he has nothing to fear."

He said he believed most citizens are loyal but "there is a small percentage of Communists in education, religion, labor, in the professions, and in politics."

Free-Loader Lives Off His Ready Wits Rather Than Cash

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—A free loader is anyone who has developed the ability of living well on his ready wits rather than his ready cash.

A male and a female free loader usually avoid each other, separated by the jealousy that divides professional people.

But occasionally necessity compels them to prey on the same sucker and forces a truce. And, human nature being what it is, every once in a while the truce ripens into love, just as it might between two hawks or a boy shark and a girl shark.

Teamwork Does It

Surprisingly, sometimes married free loaders do better together than either did singly. Teamwork does it.

In New York a well-dressed couple can eat and drink well for free almost every night in the year by crashing big hotel and restaurant cocktail and dinner parties where nobody can possibly know everybody. Tickets? Who needs tickets? Jerks who don't know what else to do with their dough.

The free loading team cultivates people who have passes or big expense accounts—people who have country places and are bored with each other and like to invite other people out so they won't have to spend the weekend throwing dinner plates at each other.

The lonely old rich man, the wealthy widow who would like to see life but doesn't know how—they find the married free loaders ready to give them a guided tour to the best places. And, of course, it's actually a pleasure to help such a charming young couple out of a tough financial spot—the first half dozen times.

Grand Detour Supervisor To Head Ogle Co. Board

Oregon Banquet Speakers

"LIFE ALONG the Pan-American Highway" will be the topic of the Rev. and Mrs. Wilbur Powell, above, who will appear at the spring banquet of the W.S.C.S. of the Methodist church at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday. Rev. and Mrs. Powell and their four young daughters were the first family to drive the Pan-American highway. They will show colored movies, and native Indian costumes will be modeled by local girls.

Frank Brown To Succeed Everett Rader

OREGON—Frank E. Brown, re-elected supervisor of Grand Detour township this week, is expected to become the next chairman of the Ogle county board of supervisors.

The board will hold a reorganizational meeting here Tuesday, when Brown is expected to be elected chairman. He will succeed Everett Rader, White Rock township supervisor, chairman for the past year.

The board elects a new chairman yearly, alternating its choice between the east and west sections of the county.

Elections in townships throughout the county this week resulted in only one change on the board. Harry Folk, Polo, will succeed R. O. Good, also of Polo, as supervisor of Buffalo township.

Folk defeated Good in Tuesday's balloting, 541 to 347.

District Scout Leaders Study Program Planning at Meet

STERLING — (Special) — More than 65 adults from Lee and Whiteside counties met again Tuesday night at Washington school in Sterling to learn more of Cub Scouting and Boy Scouting. This was the next to last session of the spring training opportunities on both programs of Scouting.

The final session will be held next

Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. at Washington school.

Mrs. John Brown and Mrs. Alvah Drew, both of Dixon, had charge of the section for men and women in Cub Scouting. Their subject was "Program Planning."

The Boy Scout section for men dealt with the subject of "Helping the Boy Grow." The faculty for this session was the same as in past sessions: Pete Carlock, Fenton; Don Bly, Fulton; Dick Langley, Morrison; Francis McFadden, Rock Falls; George Mohr, Jr. and Barney Hart, Sterling; Mac Bailey, Dixon. They were assisted by motion pictures and filmstrips.

The Cub and Boy Scout training and educational sessions held this spring have been well attended.

Men and women who are serving as leaders and committeemen in Scout units may plan to attend these same training opportunities that will be given this fall, starting in October, if they have not attended all of them by now. Unskilled labor working a skilled job too often does more harm than good. Men and women who wish to know more about Scouting, regardless of whether they have children in Scouting, may also attend these sessions.

Launch Drive On Rheumatic Fever Today

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A nationwide preventive campaign against rheumatic fever was launched today.

The plan is to have some four million Americans—most of them school children—receive a dose of penicillin or sulfa drug every day for a period of years.

State and local Heart associations pledged themselves to the effort at the annual meeting of the American Heart association.

The project is designed to aid the three per cent of the population who have had at least one "bout" of rheumatic fever.

That's the malady which is responsible for most of the heart disease in children and a large share of heart trouble in young adults. It causes more deaths in the first two decades of life than all other communicable diseases taken together.

Local Heart associations won't furnish free penicillin or sulfa drugs, or give actual treatment. But they will take the initiative in communities towards encouraging doctors to use the method—and also towards educating the public on the scientific findings.

Bonzo, Chimp Film Star, Defendant In $14,000 Suit

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Parents of a 4-year-old Granite City, Ill., girl are seeking $14,000 for some alleged hair-pulling by the movie star chimpanzee, Bonzo.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Storey, parents of Nancy Storey, filed the suit in Circuit Court Thursday against Universal—International Pictures, Inc., and Stix, Baer and Fuller, a downtown department store.

Their petition said the champ was frightened by a flash bulb while making an appearance at the store about two years ago.

The monkey grabbed Nancy by the hair and tore some out, giving her nightmares and a fear of animals, the petition added. New hair which has grown in is of a different color and texture, it said.

Eisenhower over Adlai Stevenson. Eisenhower received 442,000 votes.

Shown Switch

"The most significant point was that an upward trend was shown for Eisenhower in 30 states, including a switch of Stevenson's home state of Illinois to Eisenhower," Starzel said. "This contrasted with commercial public opinion polls which right up to election eve were reporting gains for Stevenson and a close election."

Starzel noted that the AP survey was wrong in eight states.

A postcard poll of AP members was taken to determine their attitude toward continuing the surveys.

The returns, tabulated and checked this week by a special committee of Associated Press managing editors, showed 348 members favoring similar surveys in future elections, 110 opposed and 22 indefinite.

More than 900 newspapers received their news reports in 1952 on teletypesetter circuits. Of these, more than 200 received the main trunk wire report by teletypesetter wires. Some received their full financial report and major league box score service by this means.

Domestic newspaper membership during the year totaled 1,725 and radio membership 1,185. Outside the United States, the AP served 3,138 newspapers, radio stations and publications in 69 countries.

Dirksen Choice Is U. S. Attorney

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Langer (R-ND) of a senate judiciary subcommittee, announced that the nomination of Clifford M. Raemer to be U. S. attorney for the eastern district of Illinois would be reported to the committee Monday.

Raemer would succeed William W. Hart, resigned.

A committee clerk said the report is expected to be favorable. The clerk said Raemer has been supported by Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) but no word has been received from Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.).

Reds' UN Talks Indicate Peace With Russia Remote

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—There is no clearer illustration of the remoteness of peace with Russia than two statements issued Thursday in New York and Washington.

Premier Malenkov has been talking peace since Stalin died. His representative in the United Nations, Andrei Y. Vishinsky, got up there Thursday and declared: The North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the Schuman plan, the European Defense Community and plans for re-arming West Germany must be abandoned; the atom bomb must be banned at once; the U. S. must stop building up its own arms.

Not New

The proposals were not new. Vishinsky had talked the same way while Stalin was alive. What he said showed once again that: The West's economic and military buildup is bothering Russia. This probably reveals precisely why Malenkov is talking peace so hard: To slow it down or scuttle it before it gets too far advanced.

In Washington, after three days of conferences among President Eisenhower, West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer, Secretary of State Dulles and other officials, the State department issued a statement on where they agreed. These officials: Challenged Russia to show its good intentions by letting the East Germans have truly free elections; said they were convinced there can be no lasting solution of the German problem unless Germany is reunited peacefully and democratically; agreed West Germany must be re-armed as part of a single European army and that the U. S. would help West Germany team heavy propaganda.

Until this statement the Russians had been denouncing Western Europe without much challenge from the U. S. to get down to cases. Since final settlement on Germany is one of the keystones to any real peace, there can be no better testing ground of Russia's earnestness for peace. The Russians run East Germany. Reports from there indicate the East Germans—and refugees from East Germany—bear out the reports—are so fed up on the Russians and Communists that in any free election they would overwhelmingly turn against both. Until now Russia has balked at letting East and West Germany unite.

A united Germany, after its experience with the Russians since the war, might link itself so closely with the West that it would become an impassable barrier against any Russian aggression in the future.

Bergan Named As New Head of Pontiac Prison

Bergan, 57, was named to the post effective April 15. He will succeed Wray L. Call of Pontiac, acting warden since Feb. 1. From Kankakee, Bergan is a former city police chief and currently, is a Park Board member. With the county government, he has held the jobs of sheriff, treasurer and Board of Review clerk.

Hall Okayed As Chairman Of Republicans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National committee appeared ready to ratify today the choice by President Eisenhower and congressional leaders of former Rep. Leonard W. Hall of New York as its new chairman.

Hall got unanimous approval as a successor to C. Wesley Roberts, who resigned, in an informal canvass Thursday of Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon and senate and house leaders. The canvass was made by a GOP national subcommittee.

The 52-year-old Hall, who served several terms as chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee before he quit congress to win election as a New York surrogate judge, takes over a party described by some of its members as financially "broke" despite its presidential election victory last fall.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Republican leader, said one of Hall's first jobs apparently will have to be to help get a fund raising campaign under way.

The Ohio senator, one of those who approved Hall's selection, said he hopes the new chairman picks a Western man as his executive assistant. The name of Wayne Hood, Wisconsin state chairman, was mentioned by some other party members in this connection.

Some past GOP chairmen have been non-salaried. Roberts was paid $32,500 a year.

He resigned after a Kansas legislative committee criticized his acceptance of a fee for helping to negotiate the sale of a hospital to the state.

Twister Hits Central Illinois, 14 Injured

CORONATION SPLENDOR—A F. D'Arcy, one of the State Trumpeters of the Household Cavalry, turns out for a full-dress rehearsal at Knights bridge Barracks in London. The trumpeters will sound a fanfare at the coronation of Queen Elizabeth in June.

By The Associated Press
A skipping tornado moved across Central Illinois late Thursday, ripping out trees, unroofing and destroying houses and farm buildings, causing injuries to at least 14 persons and indirectly the death of one.

Scattered but heavy hail added to the damage in Vermilion county where the twister reportedly struck five communities before whirling eastward to further destruction in Indiana.

Hits Lincoln
Damaged communications prevented an early full appraisal of the casualties and damage. At least two persons were injured at Lincoln, a city of 13,000 in the heart of the state. Other reported injuries were seven at Potomac, one at Bismarck and four at Jamesburg—three of the five Vermilion county communities reportedly hit. The other two were Henning and Armstrong.

The storm funnel blew out a concrete block wall of a fair grounds exhibition building on the northern outskirts of Lincoln and unroofed several other fair grounds buildings, then whipped through six farms.

A farm couple, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Glick, were injured when they were caught in the storm's path.

The tornado struck at Potomac, north of Danville near the eastern border of the state, and at nearby Bismarck, Jamesburg, Henning and Armstrong.

Family Escapes

Roy Childress, 27, a farmer, and his wife and four children were injured when their home was unroofed. Childress said although they heard the storm coming and lay on the floor, the wind picked up their 1-year-old daughter, Mary, and dropped her 75 feet away in a field.

All the family had cuts and bruises.

Near Bismarck, Irvin Grider, about 60, died of a heart attack induced by excitement. Two others—Mrs. Everett Wilson, 68, and Walter Franklin, 65—were injured when their homes were damaged.

The Vermilion county sheriff's office said four persons were injured on the Noble farm near Jamesburg, but it had no further details. A deputy said many trees had been uprooted and many farm buildings destroyed or damaged by the wind and heavy hail.

Forbid White-Only Clause in Charter

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—New York state has stricken a "whites-only" membership clause from the state charter of the Knights of Pythias. Gov. Dulles Named as Source Of U.S. Policy Stories

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Columbia Broadcasting system commentators named Secretary of State Dulles Thursday night as the point of origin of a number of recent newspaper stories on Far Eastern policy.

A story on Korean and Formosa published by the New York Times was denied by the White House Thursday, leading Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) to call for an investigation as to where it originated.

On separate (CBS) broadcasts Thursday night, commentators Eric Sevareid and Bill Costello said the stories had their origin in a background session which Dulles held with a number of correspondents.

Hundreds know each said he was not present at the session.

"There must be by now many hundreds of persons in Washington who know the source of the stories," Sevareid said. "It was the secretary of state, himself."

"Mr. Dulles discussed the whole problem of post-armistice Korea and Formosa; he specifically authorized that State department thinking on these matters could be printed, conditioned only by the familiar restriction against naming the source."

Dulles could not be reached for comment on Sevareid's broadcast. The New York Times said in a Washington dispatch Thursday that the Eisenhower administration is willing to accept a boundary at the waist of the Korean peninsula, some 80 miles north of the present battle lines. The same dispatch said the administration was considering the possibility of a United Nations trusteeship for Formosa with a Formosan republic as its ultimate goal.

Hagerty Denies It Some hours after this was published, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty issued a statement saying the administration (1) has never reached any conclusion that a permanent division of Korea is desirable or consistent with decisions of the U. N., and (2) has given no consideration to a U. N. trusteeship for Formosa. Arthur Krook, the Washington correspondent of the Times, commented that his paper was "only one of several reputable newspapers and press associations that published the story."

"It is another instance of the administration getting its wires crossed and blaming the consequences on the press," Krook said. Knowland, Republican policy leader in the senate, told his colleagues it seemed inconceivable to him that any decision had been reached on a permanent division of Korea.

Sees Eisenhower Later, after discussing the situation with Eisenhower at the White House, Knowland declined to tell newsmen what the President had to say. He added, however, that Dulles had assured him "the story in the New York Times did not represent his (Dulles) point of view relative to policy in Korea and Formosa."

However, he said that he knew Anthony Leviero, who wrote the Times' story Thursday, "is an able, resourceful reporter who must have felt he had a responsible source." He added that Leviero "does not deal in rumors."

He said his conclusion, after the White House talk, was that the incident did not represent a new policy by the United States.

Leviero told Knowland other newspapers had printed similar stories and that all seemed to have the same source.

AP Version The Associated Press version of the story, written by AP Diplomatic Reporter John M. Hightower, said:

"One idea receiving official consideration, it was understood today, is that any long-term peace arrangements should provide for a north-south dividing line at the narrow waist of the peninsula about 80 miles north of present battle lines."

The White House statement did not deny that such a policy was "receiving official consideration."

Stories about a post-armistice division of Korea touched off demonstrations in South Korea, whose president, Syngman Rhee, has vowed he will settle for nothing short of unification of the peninsula.

Ambulances Go Too Fast?

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Do ambulances go too fast?

Some doctors think so and have brought the subject before the Duval County Medical Society.

"Only 42 per cent of all ambulance patients transported might possibly be called emergencies," Dr. L. L. Parks said in a report.

"It is believed that if the ambulances were required to observe normal speed limits and not be permitted to break red lights or use sirens, the number of lives lost by observing normal traffic regulations probably would not be more than the number of people injured and killed at the present time by speeding ambulances."

I want to thank all the voters for the fine support they gave me at election.

Had a Reason!

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A puzzled Indian holy man learned belatedly today why a village mob beat him after he gave the traditional blessing — "may you be the mother of seven sons" — to a housewife who fed him.

At the hospital where he was taken for treatment, the holy man was told the housewife—who led the attack—already had nine children.

Housewives In Win Over Bulldozer

NORWALK, Calif. (AP)—A bulldozer came out second best in an encounter with a score of irate, shovel-wielding housewives.

The women, claiming an earth dam on a construction project was backing up water into their yards, broke out shovels Thursday and dug a ditch to drain the water.

When a bulldozer lumbered up to fill the ditch, the women stood in its path and refused to budge. The impasse finally ended when construction workers cut a new Here's JOE DAURER again doing an impression of Beatrice Kay, just one of the many impressions you are liable to see him doing. Depend on Joe and Joey O'Toole to wind up their Home Show stay with an unforgettable performance. See them at either 7 or 9 p. m.

JIMMY CAMPBELL, the leader of the band. Here's an old favorite. Those who have attended Home Shows in Dixon for the last two years will remember him well. Those who haven't, we offer condolences. Jimmy plays a sweet sax and leads a smooth band. We know you won't miss these top performers.

(At Right)

CHRISTIE MYERS, vocalist with the Jimmy Campbell band, is attaining fame as a lovely songstress on TV. Perhaps you have seen her on WOC-TV. Chris especially likes the Jimmy Campbell style of music to sing with. (Perhaps because Hubby Theldon does all the arranging). Need we say more. Standing room only for this performance, so be here early.
